REPUBLICAN TALKS

BEFORE JAMES TELLING WHY HE WILL VOTE FOR WILSON

Both U. S. Senators Address Big Crowds In This Section—More Speaking Dates.

Two great speeches for Democracy were delivered up in this neck of the woods Monday by Kentucky's two distinguished United States Senators. Senator James spoke at Somerset and Senator Beckham at Mt. Vernon. Both were heard by tremendous audiences and made magnificent speeches. Before Senator James spoke at Somerset, Edward Weddle, a member of the prominent family of that name in Pulaski county, and who has been a life-long republican, told why he will vote for Woodrow Wilson this year and gave many strong arguments why every working man should vote the same way. Weddle is an employee of the Cincinnati Southern and made a telling talk and is doing a fine work for Wilson, who, he says, has proven himself the friend of the poor and the laboring man while Hughes is known to be the candidate of the rich interests.

A crowd of 3,000 people were held entranced for almost three hours by Senator James' great speech. The big senator has been speaking all over the west for Wilson and declares that Wilson is a sure winner.

Senator Beckham was also heard by one of the biggest gatherings ever seen in Mt. Vernon on such an occasion, and his plea for votes for the greatest president since Lincoln was a masterly one and went right to the hearts of the people who heard him.

More speaking dates have been arranged for the closing days of the campaign in Lincoln county. Hon. Orie S. Ware, of Covington, who was at first scheduled, has been unable to get away, so George Dupree, who is said to be a splendid speaker, will take his place at Waynesburg and Hustonville. Dates so far arranged for speakings in this county are:

DESPONDENCY.

When you feel discouraged and despondent do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two. Despondency is very often due to indigestion and biliousness, for which these tablets are especially valuable. Obtainable everywhere.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

One of the largest as well as one of the most attractive parties of the fall season was given Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Bettie Bush and Mrs. Annie Engleman entertained at rock at the home of the latter. The day was an ideal one and the party a beautiful and enjoyable affair in every way, such as always distinguishes the affairs which these two most delightful and popular hostesses are noted for giving for their friends. A delicious two-course luncheon was served. Among the guests were Mesdames W. A. Tribble, W. H. Shanks, R. S. Hocker, and guest, Mrs. May Phelps, of Richmond, S. M. Saufley, Rowan Saufley, J. S. Owsley, W. C. Shanks, J. B. Foster, Wm. Severance, W. R. Todd, A. H. Severance, T. J. Hill, Jr., A. C. Hill, Susan Yeager, W. B. Hill, Eliza Harris, J. S. Rice, E. P. Woods, A. L. Pence, Tom Pence, Harry Hill, J. H. Wright, W. B. McKinney, H. C. Baughman, W. N. Craig, E. J. Brown, R. T. Bruce, G. B. Cooper, J. O. Reid, W. H. Wearan and guests, Mrs. Annie James, of Louisville and Mrs. J. H. Turner, of Florida, Lucy Miller Bartley, Misses Levisa Harris, Elizabeth Givens, Mary Lee Givens.

Hustonville

Col. G. D. Weatherford was over Saturday for a while on business. He looks real well and all were glad to see him.

Miss Kate Bogle has resigned her position as primary teacher in the graded school much to the regret of the patrons of the school. Miss Peavyhouse will take her place.

S. P. Stephenson weighed up the cattle he had contracted with Ike Shelby, Saturday morning. They were in fine condition.

Miss Mollie Austin is back home after a pleasant visit of several weeks to relatives in Covington and Indianapolis.

Vernon Thompson, of the Fork, spent Sunday here with friends and was guest at Hotel Weatherford.

Geo. Dupree will speak here on Thursday night, Oct. 26 at 7:30.

W. S. Wigham, of Moreland, was in town Saturday afternoon and everybody was wanting to know when he would receive another load of coal.

Dave Skinner arrived home last Friday for a visit to his family. He is looking hearty and well.

A very successful meeting has just closed at the colored Christian church with 12 additions. The meeting was conducted by Rev. Isaiah Moore, of Winchester.

Mrs. James Ellis has rented the residence of Mrs. Barker. Her two grandchildren will live with her. Mrs. Barker went to Knoxville this week to see her children.

Mrs. M. L. Lewis and granddaughter, Miss Cora Edwards, of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived here Saturday to visit relatives and friends.

Here, There and Everywhere

At the recent closing out sale of Percherons held by Peter J. Siserat at Perry, Ia., an average of $420 was made on 39 head. The stallion, Intrepid, topped the sale at $2,850. The Richmond, Ky., Commercial Club will purchase four high class purebred Shorthorn bulls to be distributed free of charge, among the farmers of Madison county. The distribution will take place during the Agricultural Fair, which is to be held during the month of November.

A dispatch from Louisville says: Because the coal car shortage has developed to a point where a steam coal famine exists in Louisville, as well as advanced prices on domestic coal, action by the Interstate Commerce Commission is declared by coal men to be the only hope of preventing a troublesome situation. Almost prohibitive prices are in effect." Col. R. G. Evans has turned over to officials of the Queen and Crescent route at Danville, a deed to a triangular section of land lying immediately west of the railway tracks. The railroad company has now secured practically all the four hundred acres of land desired there for the expansion of their facilities. The work of looking up titles, and making deeds is progressing steadily and the whole proposition will be closed up in a few weeks.

WHEN YOU TAKE COLD

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a common cold. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of your cold as quickly as possible. You are not experimenting when you use this remedy, as it has been in use for many years and has an established reputation. It contains no opium or other narcotic. Obtainable everywhere.

Mrs. Owsley Hurt

Buggy Turns Over When It Strikes Rock Pile On Danville Pike

Mrs. John Sam Owsley, wife of the well known local attorney, sustained a very painful and severe fracture of her right ankle Monday night about six o'clock when a buggy in which she and Mrs. W. A. Tribble were returning from Danville struck a pile of rock which had been left piled up in the center of the pike near the residence of J. Frank Smith by the construction crew at work rebuilding the pike, with no red lantern to indicate its presence. When the buggy struck the heaped up stone, and began to go over, Mrs. Tribble jumped and saved herself, but Mrs. Owsley was caught under the vehicle, and it is regarded as very fortunate that she was not more seriously hurt. There was a passway on each side of the stone heap, but in the darkness neither of the ladies saw the obstruction in the center of the pike as there was no light upon it, and the place where the accident occurred is several hundred yards outside the city limits.

Luckily the horse they were driving made no effort to run away. Mrs. Owsley was quickly taken to the home of Mr. Smith, where her broken limb was set by a physician, after which W. H. Shanks took her to her apartments at Mrs. Tribble's home in his motor car.

The injury is a very painful and serious one, and will keep her confined to her bed for some time. The buggy these ladies were in is said to have been the third to have turned over on the rocks on this pike, since reconstruction work began. This was the only accident which had a serious termination, however.

Freight Cars In Ditch

Ten Cars Jump Track Near Hemp About Noon Saturday

Ten freight cars on the train run by Engineer Fox Dudderar and Conductor J. A. Carter, of this city, went off the track and cluttered up several hundred yards of the right of way, a short distance west of Hemp about noon Saturday. Luckily the engine was not pulled from the track and no one was hurt. The cars which went over were two cars of coal, five cars of rock ballast, one car of scrap iron and two empties. Most of the cars and contents went down an embankment into the farm of James H. Woods, who bought some mighty cheap coal from the railroad as a result of the wreck. What caused the spill is totally unknown. The wrecker from Lebanon was soon at work. The 2:30 K. C. to Louisville had to be routed around by Nicholasville, but the roadway was in shape for 22 to run toward Louisville at 6 o'clock.

Saufley

First Class Football

Shown by Stanford Boys Who Defeat Richmond Normal 26 to 14

In one of the best and most keenly contested football games ever seen on the Stanford gridiron, Stanford High defeated the eleven of Eastern Normal here Monday afternoon by a score of 26 to 14. The game was a battle royal from beginning to end, and was decided purely and simply by the speed of the local lads, who outguessed and outplayed at an open game their opponents who must have outweighed them from 15 to 25 pounds or more to the man. The Normal team was said by a Richmond man who came over for the game, to have averaged 175 pounds, but its backfield was so slow that it never seemed to get started, and only in spurts was the weight of the heavy football engine able to count against its much lighter opposition. A big crowd was out to the game, but few thought that Stanford had a chance. Several auto loads of Richmond rooters came over to see the slaughter, as Normal had defeated Stanford by such an overwhelming score there a short time ago. The eyes of all were opened when in the very first half minute of play Sam Embry shot a forward pass to his brother Joe T. Embry, and the latter ran through a broken field, for about 40 yards to a touchdown. The big feature of the game was the forward passing of these Embry boys, which was responsible for 90 per cent of the groundgaining made by the local eleven. Very few times did they fail for gains when this was attempted, while Richmond was unsuccessful in most of her attempts at this style of play, and made most of her gains by straight line bucking, where her superior weight told.

Stanford scored three touchdowns in the first quarter of play, the first on the Embry brothers' forward pass. On the next kickoff, Stanford kicked to Normal, held the visitors three downs, and then when Richmond endeavored to punt, Joe Embry blocked the punt, and his brother a minute afterward went around left end for the second touchdown. Tucker kicked goals. Another forward pass was carried over by Joe Embry after a few minutes of play, but Tucker failed at goal. Score 20 to 0.

Normal scored her first touchdown in the second quarter by straight line plunging, and McDougal kicked goals. Stanford held desperately right at the goal line for three downs, but the visitors pushed a man over on their fourth and last chance.

In the third quarter Stanford started off in a procession down the field, Sam Embry forward passing to Joe Embry and to Joe Hill, but a fumble on Richmond's 20-yard line caused the ball to go over. Stanford's line was so strong that Richmond was forced to punt. Hembree caught a forward pass from Stanford but lost the ball on downs on Stanford's 20-yard line. A forward pass thrown by Sam Embry was caught by a Richmond player on Stanford's 30-yard line; and Richmond put over one of her few successful passes and went over for her second touchdown, and as goal was kicked, the score stood 20 to 14.

The fourth quarter was bitterly fought, and at several points it seemed that feeling was becoming so intense that blows would be struck. Bryan Perkins, who was forced to leave the game in the first quarter when he and Spalding Hill collided both going for a forward pass catch, went back and the Richmond referee put him out of the game, charging rough work. Stanford players declared that "Perk," who was playing a star game all the time, was not at fault, but the referee had the last say. Soon after the kickoff, Stanford was penalized 25 yards, but braced and held for downs. After two forward passes failed, Tucker punted to the visitors' 15-yard line, and Hunn got the ball, and Sam Embry took it over by a left end run on the next play. Richmond tried hard but could never get within striking distance of the local goal line and the game ended 26 to 14, as no goal was kicked on the last touchdown.

ANOTHER STAR FROM HERE

Stanford and Lincoln county have produced a number of young men who have shone as stars on various college and university football and base ball teams, and now has come to the front with one of her sons who is making a great record as a member of the football team which represents that portion of Uncle Sam's regular army stationed at Fort McKinley, Maine. This young man is Coleman Lutes, of Stanford, who has been in the army some little time. He is playing right end on the army eleven of Fort McKinley which has lost but one game this year and has played such strong teams as Colby, Bate and the University of New Hampshire and the eleven of the cruiser San Francisco. Lieut. Stevall, the army coach, an old football man himself, says that Lutes is the best all around football player that he ever saw. Lutes is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lutes, of Stanford. He will be home about Nov. 5th.

THAT EAST END CULVERT.

County Road Engineer McKee Riffe, who has about the biggest job of any county official, in supervising the entire 800 or so miles of roads in Lincoln county, and is kept on the jump all the time, says that a wrong impression has been given of the condition of a certain culvert in the East End by the I. J.'s correspondent at Preachersville. In order to set the matter right, Mr. Riffe gave the I. J. the following statement:

In regard to the article by the Preachersville correspondent in Friday's I. J., I wish to correct his statement of the condition of the culverts in that section. Upon my regular trip of inspection last week, I found the "hog culvert" absolutely not out of commission, or in any way dangerous to travel, it having never been stopped in the two years of my management, and Mr. Lawrence assured me that it is in practically as good condition as it was fifteen years ago. But I did find culverts along the property where Mr. Blankenship lives partially or wholly stopped by limbs and other trash washed from his place, and one twenty-four inch metal tube just in front of his house with a washtub placed over the end putting it completely out of commission, and causing the water to overflow the pike. I also found his very "dangerous culvert" with a large quantity of debris from his farm choking the end, causing the water to undermine the walls.

As I have stated before, ninety per cent of the damage done by water to the roads, is caused by the farmers obstructing the ditches or culverts by carelessly or willfully placing hedge trimmings, limbs from trees, stones and such like in the ditches or culverts. If anyone knowing of a dangerous place in the road will report same to road engineer, it will receive his immediate attention, and by thus co-operating with the engineer more good can be done than by making undeserved and unjust, comments.

J. L. MCKEE RIFFE,
County Road Engineer.

TEACHERS ELECT OFFICERS

At their meeting in Lexington late last week, public school teachers of the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Congressional education districts elected officers as follows: Miss Ora Adams, of Harrodsburg, County Superintendent of Mercer county schools, president; J. A. Carnegie, Superintendent City Schools, Danville, vice president; R. S. Eubank, editor of Southern School Journal, Lexington, secretary, and T. G. Prather, Harrodsburg, treasurer. Miss Adams was chosen over two male competitors, Supt. Carnegie and W. O. Hopper of Mt. Sterling. Lexington was selected as the place for the next meeting of the new association.

Latest War News

Constanza, Rumania's chief seaport and fortress on the Black Sea, has fallen into the hands of the Teutonic Allies. The Russians and Rumanians are in retreat along the whole front, but according to Petrograd, are offering stubborn resistance.

More than 1,000 yards of German trenches in the region of Guedecourt and Lesboeufs were taken by the British in fighting north of the Somme River in France. In the region of Grandecourt the British artillery stopped a German plan for an attack.

IN COUNTRY'S FLAG

SERGEANT JOHN HUBBLE IS LAID TO REST.

Popular McKinney Young Man Dies on Mexican Border—Masons Conduct Funeral Rites

Wrapped in the flag of the country whose cause he served, the remains of Sergeant John Hubble were brought back to his home at McKinney Saturday night and returned to the father who gave his only son to the service of his country. Sergeant Hubble died at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas, last Wednesday, Oct. 18th, after a long illness of dysentery, complicated with heart trouble. News of his death caused profound sorrow here and at his home at McKinney, where he was so well known and beloved. John Hubble was a splendid young man in every way, and was making a model soldier in the service of Uncle Sam on the border under Gen. Pershing. He enlisted as a private and by devotion to duty, energy and ability was promoted to Sergeant, and seemed destined to go still higher, for his merit and ability had been frequently recognized by his superior officers and most highly commended by them in every way. His captain and others who knew him well paid high and sincere tribute to him in a letter to the family, and it is felt generally that the service and the country has lost a most useful soldier and a citizen of the highest type. He was just 38 years of age, and had made his home at McKinney practically all his life when not in the army. Besides his father, John M. Hubble, he is survived by four sisters.

Sergeant Hubble was a member of the McKinney lodge of Masons and after religious services at the home by Rev. R. L. Brandenburg, of Hustonville, Monday, the members of this great fraternity took charge of the remains and held their beautiful rites at the grave in Buffalo Springs cemetery here. Col. C. N. Smith, of Danville, accompanied by others from there and over this county, came over, and conducted the Masonic ceremonies over the bier of their departed brother.

MISS NELL HIGGINS DEAD

Miss Nell Higgins died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry F. Higgins at Paint Lick Monday afternoon. Miss Higgins had been an invalid for a number of years, but her death was quite a shock to all. She was a sister of Miss Jennie Higgins, County Superintendent of Garrard county and a niece of Mrs. Adelia Woods, of this city. Mrs. Woods received a message Monday morning stating that Miss Jennie Higgins, who had been thrown from her buggy several days ago was not so well and to come, so Mrs. Woods left on the train for Paint Lick. On arriving Mrs. Woods found Miss Jennie much better but that Miss Nell had just passed away. The interment took place Tuesday afternoon at Paint Lick after services at the grave by Rev. Eldridge, pastor of the Presbyterian church of which the deceased was a devoted member.

K. P.'S CALL FAIR OFF.

At the regular meeting of the local Knights of Pythias lodge last week the lodge voted not to conduct a fair this year. Many of the members feel that they should let "well enough alone" and having come out on the right side of the ledger after so many trials, should not tempt fortune again. It is said to be practically a certainty, however, that a fair will be held in Stanford promoted by a stock company. The Stanford fair has become almost the best advertised and known country fair in this section of Kentucky, has done a great deal toward advertising Stanford and Lincoln county and a majority of the business men feel that it should not be allowed to lapse especially after such a successful season as it just experienced.

GO TO D. A. R. CONVENTION

Miss Esther Whitley Burch, regent of the local chapter D. A. R., accompanied by Misses Sue Taylor Engleman and Misses Nancy Yeager went to Louisville this week to attend the annual convention of the D. A. R., which meets there Wednesday and Thursday. The sessions will be held at the Seelbach Hotel and about 150 delegates are expected to be present.

Timothy Buchanan, a negro of Crab Orchard, was brought to this city Saturday afternoon and placed in jail to serve a term of about ten days for disturbing religious worship. The negro was brought to this city by A. T. Traylor, who happened to be in Crab Orchard.
